

GF40X: to handle resistive cases

Assess this first page all the way through. For each reading question, assess the corresponding section on the expanded list, again all the way through. Having assessed all the relevant sections on the expanded list, handle the reads in the order they appear on this first page of the list. Due to the size of the expanded list, it is only necessary to attach to the worksheets those pages that were marked with reads or nulls during the session.
